Randall's Island Boys. - Yeslarday, about sixty boys, from Randall's Island, who received the reward of "merit" from the Public School Society, paid a visit to the rit" from the Public School Society, paid a visit to the city, under charge of their superintendant, Mr. Ripley. After seeing the procession, they called on Simeon Dra-per, Eq., president, and the governors, and, by invita-tion from the manager, visited the American Museum. After enjoying themselves here for sometime in viewing the wonderful curiosities of this establishment, they went After enjoying themselves here for sometime in viewing the wonderful curiosities of this establishment, they went through their exercises, and proceeded to the Astor House for the purpose of making their scknowledgements to Messrs. Stetson & Coleman, (the proprietors), for the many favors bestowed on them by those gentlemes, during the holydays, and on several other occasions. While viewing this great establishment, those kindhearted gentlemen had ordered quite a feast to be set beforeshom, which, being much to their taste, the boys did ample justice to. This agreeable time being over, one of the number, named Thomas James, about eleven years of age, addressed their kind hosts in a neat speech, which was responded to in a feeling and appropriate manner. They then gave nine cheers for the Astor House, and proceeded to the Governor's office, where they were kindly received and entertained by Mr. Kellock, who sent them home by the Harlem ears, in high glee, and rejoicing in the pleasure and happiness they engoyed during the day. These boys wore their holiday suits, and made a very handsome appearance. Their exercises and marching were highly applauded—the latter, we must say, was quite a la militaire.

He had gone from Manhattanville to Fordham, where he was employed by Mr. G. B. Butter. On Wednesday, Coroner lawrence held an inquest on the body, and the jury returned the following verdict: That the deceased came to his death from injuries received by being struck by the locomotive of the New Haven train, as he was crossing the railroad track, on leaving the cars of the Harlem Railroad Company at the Fordham station, and that the couse of his death is mainly attributable to the unwarrantable high speed and Aren. 22.—Shop Lifting.—Heindrich Forster was convicted of stealing a piece of sink valued at $75, from the store of Messrs. Hamilton & Freeman, in South William street, on the 13th March last. Juan Seger, examined through an interpreter, being a Frenchman, proved he was an assistant in the store, and arrested the defendant in the act, with the property in his possession. Sentence, iwo years imprisonment.

Another Case.—William Winters, alias Lee, and John Sembler, two respectable looking young men, were jointly indicted for a similar offence at the store or warehouse of Edward Warberg, importer of silk, &c., 55 Brood street. Caspar Huber, a porter in Mr. Warberg's employment, deposed that the prisoners entered the premises on the morning of the 10th of March, and commenced pricing several pieces of goods; he could give them no information, and begged them to sit down and wait; but they continued to walk about, and at length his attention was drawn to "a protuberance" under Sembler's coat, where upon he opened it, and discovered a piece of silk, which Mr. Warberg now identified as his property, containing seventy-eight yards, and valued at eighty cents per yard. On his making the discovery, the more powerful prisoner (Winters) made an strack on him. knocking him down, and closing his eye by the blow. Ex Recorder Tallmadge appeared for the prisoner Winters, and called Mr. Sherrard, his employer, who gave him a respectable character. Rufus Lee deposed that he was his brother; Lee was his right name; he was a native of Baltimore, and for two years past had recided with him (witness) the had never known him to be in any difficulty, or heard anything against his character. The wittess was cross-examined by the District Attorney, and stated that he did know the Ocean House in Church street (Fifth ward), but did n but some candles and beer, and there was no communitation with the rest of the building, are by a deer which was looked. The prisoner had always stated he had been drinking, and went down with sense man—did not know how he get into the cellur. Third the direction of the court, the jury immediately acquited the prisoner of any felsoious intent, and he was discharged.

Another—Witness who knew all shout it.—Michael Manning, a youth well-known in the region of the Fourth ward, had a much more marrow and fortunate escape from conviction, on the grave charge of highway robbery. William Flynn, a sailor, residing at 42 Cherry street, deposed, that on Saturday fortnight, between 12 and 10 clock, a party of three accosted him in Catherine street; on his way home, between Cherry and Water street, one of them struck him in the face, and another gripped him behind. They abstracted his pocket-book containing $35, all in bills—two in fives, and the rest in smaller bills. He never saw the persons faces at all while they were robbing him; he saw one of them running away, (the one who had hold of him by the arm.) within about twenty feet, and who was dressed like the prisoner. He gave a description of them to the Police, who in consequence arrested Manning, Michael Wogan, an officer of the Fourth ward, deposed, he had heard of the robbery, and at an early hour he arrested the defendant at Pearsall's porter house, where he was asleep; he suspected him, knowing that he had lately returned from New Orleans; when he arrested him, he asked him for the nine dollars be had in his watch fob; when prisoner said, "How do you know I have nine dollars." Witness raid he knew all, and took him to the station house, where the man Flynn identified him; he gave up the nine dollars, and said he had brought it with him from New Orleans; witness concluded by stating he knew the other two who had cleared out, one for Albany.

Mr. A. A. Phillips (for prisoner.)—I say you do not know all about it.

Witness continued.—The money was in $1 and $2 bills.

Witness continued—The money was in $1 and $2 bills. The sailor could not identify it.

Mr. Phillips asked whether the District Atterney would press for a conviction, and the latter said-it was a mere question of identity. The Court charged the jury, that the prosecutor not being able to identify the prisoner, and the charge being one of so serious a nature, perhaps they were not warranted in convicting. A verdict of not guilty was accordingly returned, and the Court advised the prisoner to make tracks from New York immediately, which he very cheerfully consented to do. On the application of the District Attorney, the money was ordered to be given up to the prosecutor.

Extensive Burglary—Singular Evidence by the Police.—Augustus Nicholis, an old offender, and a former immate of the State prison, indicted with Mary Stanley. was charged with burglary. The District Attorney opened the case He stated that an extensive burglary had been controlled to the state of the State prison, indicted with Mary Stanley. Was charged with burglary. The District Attorney opened the case He stated that an extensive burglary had been controlled to the state of the State of the Prison and mercer, at 617 Hudson street. It was a state of the Burglary and succeeded in getting away, leaving the formale and broad-leith behind. Mr. Pringle was first called, but Mr. A. A. Phillips did not dispute the fact of the burglary, and the goods being the property of the witness. Officer James Scott, of the Twentieth ward was then called, and he proved the case, as stated for the prosecution in more detail, and produced the "billy," which was found near the spot and with which he believed he had been struck, but not so as to make him insonsible. This instrument was about twelve inches leage, one third of its being formed of lead, something in the form of a druggist's pestle, and secur returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferr d. Though the burglary was an extensive one, the premises entered being only a store, the prisoner is indicted in the third degree.

Another Old Offender.—Charles Waverley, alias Hugh Casey, who, though but nineteen, has already served one term in the State prison, was convicted of having, on the 31st March, broken the window of Mr. James Rogers' jewelry store, 359 Hudson street, and stolen some rings, watch chains, &c. The Grand Jury directed a bill for petit larceny only, but being laid as the second offence, and a former conviction for grand larceny on the 23d June, 1849, having been proved, his present conviction is equivalent to one for grand larceny. Sentence deferred.

More of the Rising Generation—A Percess Jury.—Another Walch, James Wilson, John Anderson, Robert Pyne, and William Kavanagh, were placed at the bar, charged with burglary. The prisoners, who were all in their teens, had been indicted, with three others of their own age, for breaking into the store of Phillip Hyne, corner of Sixth street and Second avenue, and stealing a quantity, of segars and some chocolate. The prisoner (Anotherson) had, by his own statement, acknowledged his guilt; but the only evidence against the others was that of an accomplice, (one of the three before mentioned.) The District Atterney did not therefore press the case against them and the Court charged that with the exception of Anderson's own confession, there was no evidence they could rely on. The jury retired, and in a few minutes returned with a general verdict of not guilty. Judge Beebe.*—Do you include Anderson'? The jury must pass upon his case too.

A Juror.*—I will explain. We would rather not include him—but we understood the evidence of accomplice was not to be taken against the others; and we did not think it was fair to take a confession against himself.

The prisoners were remanded to answer another indictment against them. And the Court adjourned.

Police Intelligence.

Escape of a Counterfeiler from the Fifth Ward Station House.—In yesterday's Herand, we noticed the arrest of a man named James Howe, charged with attempting to pass a counterfeit $10 bill on the Bank of Farmington. Mass., at a store in Canal street, and his detention at the Fifth ward police station house, awaiting an examination. The prisoner, on Wednesday evening, was not confined in a cell, but permitted to parade about the station house on a kind of paride dehomeur. The officer having him in charge was induced by the prisoner to leave the house for the purpose of purchasing some fried oysters for his supper; but to the surprise of the officer, on his return he found the station house in a 'stew," as the prisoner during the officer's absence, had broken his faith, and made good his escape by scaling the fence in the rear, which led to an alley, thereby giving the prisoner access to the street. The prisoner was to have been examined to-day, before the magistrate, but as his whereabouts at present is not exactly known, they have to catch him first, before his examination takes place. The $420 left behind by the prisoner, in the hands of the police, will probably be claimed on a power of attorney, deducting, of course, $100 paid counsel to take care of his defence.

California Ticket Case.—In the matter pending against George E. Hamilton charged before Justice Osborn with selling fraudulent tickets to passengers for California, was brought up yesterday afternoon on a hearing; the witness M Grant was cross-examined by counsel for the defence, who failed to identify Hamilton as the person who sold him the ticket, but said he saw Hamilton in and about the office after he had purchased the ticket. A question here arose by counsel for the defence, as to how Hamilton could be made avenable to the law of fails pretence. In this case Hamilton & Co. held out promises that the ship Reinder would sail on street, stealing therefrom a considerable number of boots and shoes. They were committed by Justice Osborn for a further hearing.

Margaretta Lohrens.—Justice Osborn has concluded to dismiss the charge of murder pending against Margaretta Lohrens, as an accomplice of Otto Grunzig; but at the request of Mr. Biunt, the District Attorney, she will be kept in prison for a day or two, in order that certain matters growing out of some previous proceedings, shall be more fully investigated, and that full justice may be done to all parties concerned.

The New York Orphan Asytum Society.

The forty-sixth annual examination took place yesterday, at the Apollo Rooms, Broadway. Owing to the uncertainty of the weather, the attendance was limited, and the Rev. Dr. Parker, who was expected to have addressed the orphans, was prerented attending.

The children numbered one hundred and sixty-

The children numbered one hundred and sixty-eight, and presented a healthy appearance, and went through their examination exercises with much credit.

In the absence of Dr. Parker, the Superintendent read the annual report, which pressed the necessity of an extension of the subscription list. It appeared that the receipts for the year ending 1st April, amounted to $11,830 21. $1,500 of which was a loan from the New. York Bank, and $500, a grant from the Legislature, and the balance in hand, after deducting the expenditure, was only $11 38. There are bills unpaid to the amount of $700. We sincerely hope the institution will receive that support to which its noble design, and high practical benefit to the community, entitle it.

The Common Council only raised $50,000, which amount has already been expended, and an amount of $6,910 63 advanced by the Ten Governers, which is due that body by the city. Theatrical and Musical.

Bowley Theates.—The new romantic drama of the "Corsican Brothers," which has been placed on the stage in the utmost splendor as regards scenery, dresses, and decorations, will again be presented this evening. The principal characters in the piece will be filled by Messre, Goodall, Eddy, and Stevens. Miss Gertrude Dawes will appear in a favorite Pas, and the entertainments will conclude with the comedy of the "Married Rake." Those who have not seen the "Corsican Brothers." should visit the Bowery, and we promise them they will be amply repaid.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—Forrest appears, to-night, for the sixty-third time, in his great representation of "King Lear." The Broadway theatre was never better supported than during the present engagement of Mr. Forrest. Although he has, in his round of characters, played many of them five or six times, yet the dedre to see him again and again is unabated. Conway appears as Edgar,

BURYON'S THEATRE.—The enterprising manager of this presperous establishment seems to be always on the alert to produce every novelty within his reach. Week after week we have one or two of the fine old English comedies, and searcely a week passes that he does not produce some of the newest features of the London stage. This evening, a new piece, never acted here, and now playing in London with the greatest success, called "Our Clerks," will be presented for the amusement of his patrons. The cast is excellent. The other piece is the "New Connubial Bliss Associations."

Clarke, Arnold, Mrs. Nichoßs, and Mrs. Drew. in the principal characters. The drama of "The Dumb Boy!" will conclude all. Mr. Blanchard is a great favorite at the National, and no doubt will have a good house.

Lyceum Theatre.—Miss Julia Bennett, a very good comic actress, and, we might say, a generally useful woman in a theatre, as her talents seem to be versatile, will appear this evening in the comedicita of a "Soldier's Courtship." She will be assisted by Mr. Walcott. This amusing and interesting piece will be followed by the laughable farce of "The Windmill." in which Owens, a commedian of great celebrity, and also a great favorite, will appear, with Miss Julia Bennett and Mrs Maeder. A new oddity, entitled "Why Cough and Gamble," will follow, and all will close with "The Live Indian;" Owens in the leading part.—The bill of entertainment provided for this evening, at the Museum, will comprise the moral drama entitled "Rocina Meadows," in which Messrs. April 22.—Concetion for Passing Spurious Coin.—A man and his wife, named Thomas and Elizabeth Norton, were put on trial, on an indictment for passing, on the 9th of March last, two counterfeit quarter dollars. The witness, William Chambers, grocer, testified that the woman effered to pass a spurious quarter dollar on him, in payment for some trifling article purchased; she was informed it was bad, and she then left the store and joined her husband in the street, and again proceeded to another store, and passed anether quarter dollar of the same description. Mr. Chambers then caused them both to be arrested on the charge. The jury found them both guilty, and the Court remanded them back to prison for rentence. The punishment is not less than two years in the States Prison, nor more than ten.

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

Tourssay, April 22—6 P. M.

A large business was transacted to day in railroad bonds, and prices at the close were better than at the opening. Eric Convertibles opened at 95%, and closed at 96. Fanoy stocks were not so buoyant, but we notice about the usual activity. At the first board, Morwich and Worcester declined % per cent; Stonington, %; Reading Railroad, %; Harlem, %; Canton Co., %; N. J. Zinc, %; Eric Income, %. Harlem Ex. bonds advanced % per cent, Morris Causi, %; Phenix Mining Co., %, cash, and % on time. There appeared to be no anxiety among holders to sell at this advance. There was an active demand for Nicarsgus Transit, but no transactions. Asking prices were considerably above those current yesterday. We notice a small sale of Panama Railroad stock, at an advance of 4 per cent on last sales. There is very little doubt but that the stock representing the different companies having works connecting the Atlantic with the Pacific ocean, will ultimately command handsome premiums and prove productive investments. At the second board the market was rather quiet. Phoenix Mining Company sold at prices current in the morning; Eric Railroad at yesterday's prices—there having been no transactions at the first board. Canton Co. declined % per cent; Portsmouth, %. Virginia sixes sold this afternoon at an advance of 1 per cent.

The receipts at the office of the Assistant Treasurer of this port to-day, amounted to $98,283 07; payments, $83,83 50—bal ance, $3,296,220 58.

Corper.—We heard that 50 bags Rio changed hands at 9½ a 9½c. and 1,500 Laguayra at 9½ a 9½c.; market brisk.

Freights continued inactive, and engagements light. To Liverpool, 500 bbls, rosin were engaged at 1s. Cotton was nominal, at 3.16d a 7.32d. Flour was at 1s. a 1s. 3½d. The last engagements of flour to London were at 1s. 60. a 1s. 9d, and 1s. 9d, to 2s. for naval stores. There was nothing new to the Continent or to California.

Feathers.—A parcel of 500 lbs. prime live geese realized 38 a 40c. cash.

Frutt.—400 boxes Malaga raisins brought $1 60, and 100 Layer do. $2 10.

Herse.—Retail lots of American dew rotted were selling at $117 50, the former price.

Hors.—About 23 bales Western New York, found purchasers at 20 a 30c, per lb. cash.

Inon.—Excepting the disposal of 100 tons Scotch pig. at $21, six months, we have nothing to report.

Cardenas at 17 5c. the privilege of issuing these bonds, for the purpose of supplying the city with water, and as soon as proper works can be constructed, the people of Chicago will have what they have long felt the want of—a full supply of pure water. The prosperity of the city will be better ensured by the construction of extensive water works, as the danger of fire will be diminished, and both public and private property preserved.

In 1837, the valuation of real estate in Chicago was $236.842. In 1851, the valuation of real estate was $236.842. In 1851, the valuation of real estate was $6.804.202; personal estate, $1,758,455—total, $5.562.717. In 1840, the population of Chicago was 4,479. In 1850, it was 28,260. The increase is likely to continue nearly at the same rate. The rapid extension of railroads, and other works of internal improvement, in Illinois, all of which centre at Chicago, must make the growth of that city as great during the next twenty years, as has been realized during the past twenty. According to the report of the Finance Committee of the Corporation, the aggregate liabilities of the city of Chicago on the 10th of November, 1951, amounted to $132,268 71. Total assets, comprising cash, real estate, wharfing lots, and privileges, &c., &c., amounted to $279,525 14—showing an excess of assets over liabilities of $147.256 45. The real estate belonging to the city must ultimately be immensely valuable. The construction of the Great Central Illinois Railroad, terminating on Lake Michigan at Chicago, must bring into active use all the wharfing lots and privileges of the city, and make Chicago the centre of an enormous traffic.
